OUR COMPANY

Trestles, LLC is a Tennessee based company that provides professional consultant services for businesses requiring engineering, environmental and construction related needs. We consider our ability to work with a Client as a privilege. To that end, our Team is dedicated to providing our best every day!

Trestles offers a vast array of professional services to international, federal, state and local agencies; agricultural, automotive, construction, education, electrical, eWaste, natural gas, and recycling industries; developers; and health care institutions. With our teaming partners, we are capable of performing complex, multi-discipline turn-key projects with the most demanding schedules and budget constraints.

Each project is very important and we strive to communicate and work closely with our clients to achieve success. By working together and listening, our Team is able to understand the needs of the project and its respective goals. Our engineering and technical talent pool is deep and available to meet the client's and project's needs with innovative, time-saving, and cost-effective solutions.

Trestles and its leadership are committed to our attention to service. We are able to provide our Clients with a single source contact for their projects. Therefore, a large amount of our work is repeat business with Clients who have appreciated our Team enough to invite us back.
